The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Suzuki '156.

Suzuki teaches a multilayer metalization wherein the interlevel dielectrics have progressively changing dielectric constants similar to applicant's invention. See figure 1 and the supporting text. Claim 1 is anticipated. Claims 3-5 are also anticipated as the dielectrics of Suzuki comprise oxide or SiLK, for example. Note also that the process of producing the dielectrics does not structurally distinguish the claims over Suzuki.

Patentability of a product by process claim is determined by the final product, regardless of how actually made, In re Hirao 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See also In re Brown 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessman 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim 191 USPQ 90; and In re Morosi 218 USPQ 289, all of which make it clear that it is patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear.

Claim 6 is rejected as Suzuki teaches transistors in figure 1.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Suzuki '156.

In regard to claim 2 Suzuki teaches the lower dielectrics having a constant around 2.7 (column 5) and upper layers of greater dielectric constant. The claimed magnitudes are considered obvious over Suzuki because his lower layers have a dielectric constant of 2.7 and there is a similar upward progression.

Claims 1,3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gates '204.

Gates teaches multiple wiring layers and dielectrics (column 2 lines 62-67). Claim 1 is broad in that it does not specify the relative magnitudes of the dielectric constants. As such it does not structurally distinguish over Gates who shows damascene metals and insulation layers with trenches and dielectric constants. See figure 8 and the text. Claims 3-6 are also rejected as '204 teaches organic spin-on glasses and as stated above the method of manufacture does not structurally distinguish the final product over the applied art. See also columns 4-5 where HSG, MSQ, etc. are disclosed.
